1. Chapter 1

Prologue BPOV

When he left six months ago, I knew my life would never be the same. I held his secret and would never tell. But when you discover you have a secret yourself, your pull to that person strengthens and you tie yourself to a place where that person seems the like reality and less of a dream. My story begins on October 31 or as many would call it Halloween.

2. Authors Note

So sorry. I have been really busy with college! I hope to update this summer. Not only that but there were ton of computer issues. So I have all of the chapters written out by hand and hoping to type them and upload them so you guys can read them.

In regards to Reckless and Broken, I am putting that one up for adoption. It was a good idea at the time but my mind has gone blank. First person to PM me gets it.

Once again, sorry to keep you waiting,
